Administrative history / Biographical sketch

Note

Paul D. Earl was born in 1941 in eastern Canada. He received his M.A. in Transportation Planning from the University of Toronto and proceeded in 1970 to join the "Grains Group," an interdepartmental advisory body. In 1975 he became Director of Corporate Planning at United Grain Growers Limited (UGG). Four years later Earl took a job with the Grain Transportation Agency (GTA). In 1986 he left in order to complete a PhD. studying the roots of the Canadian grain industry since the 1920s. Earl initially returned to the GTA and then to UGG for five years. In the 1990s he began work on a book which was published as Mac Runciman: A Life in the Grain Trade (2000). His experience in the industry gave him a unique insight into Runciman, a former president of UGG. Since 1996 Earl has held the position of Policy Manager in Manitoba for the Western Canadian Wheat Growers.
